

John Anderson
Chair, Global Anti-Counterfeiting Group Network (GACG)

John Anderson is an IPR enforcement strategy and communications consultant since 2004. He works in all spheres of the public and private sectors on all Intellectual Property Rights. He is Chairman of Global Anti-Counterfeiting Group Network (GACG) since 2002; Project partner, United Nations Inter Regional Crime and Justice Research Institute (UNICRI) specialising in IPR infringements as an emerging crime; Contract Expert, EU Observatory on Infringements of IPRs, again with a focus on all forms of IPRs and working especially in 'third countries' and especially on inter-agency and inter- institutional co-operation; John is a Member of the Interpol IP Crime Investigators College Advisory Committee, an official Observer at World Intellectual Property Office (WIPO) Advisory Committee on Enforcement; GACG is a member of the Private sector group of the World Customs Organisation Counterfeiting and Piracy Group; he is formerly the Vice-Chairman UN/ECE Team of Specialists on IP; a member of IPR Enforcement Project Evaluation teams (EU/China and EU/3rd Countries); a Partner in the FAKES project (EU DGJLS/UNICRI); and EU Twinning projects: Romania, Latvia, Estonia, Bulgaria, Croatia, Turkey and Morocco. John was previously: Director General of Anti-Counterfeiting Group (ACG) UK; Director, Government and European Affairs, at the Automobile Association; and a member of HM (British) Diplomatic Service. He speaks good French, moderate Portuguese and Spanish.